From the Principal...

Thought for the week:  How will you spend your dash?

Our term has started with some very sad news. Whilst our teaching staff may not be showing their worries or concerns, I believe it is important for you to know that both Pauleen and Kate have had a parent pass away and last Monday Deb S had a severe car accident. I spoke to Deb on Wednesday, she is gradually recovering and we hope to have her back with us soon. While she is away Lynne Pearce will be replacing her for QuickSmart Literacy.

While I was at the celebration service of Kate’s dad, her younger brother read a poem called ‘The Dash’ by Linda Ellis, it is attached on the front for you to read. This poem made me reflect on how important our family is and how we spend our time during the years that we are privileged to have. Our thoughts at this time are with Pauleen, Kate and Deb S and also the many families who are experiencing difficulties at present. How we spend our dash in life is what matters the most.

On a happier note I am pleased to announce that we have employed a School Wellbeing Officer for every Friday. This has been a project we have been working on for several years and we are now able to provide this for the school from school funds. Jody Yandle, who has many years of experience in this area, has accepted a job realignment to be released to do this work on Fridays. She will be available to the whole community and as we all know she has a great listening ear.

Yesterday we commemorated ANZAC day and planted a Gallipoli Oak in the top section of garden near the car park. We are planning on creating an Arboretum here as part of our next garden project. Many thanks to Jessica Holden who initiated the ANZAC day service with all children creating a poppy and weaving them onto a board which is on display in the front entrance. Lest we forget.

At School Council last Monday we discussed the possibility of forming a formal parent group to allow for further parent voice. The purpose of this group will be to benefit students and to enrich and contribute to the wellbeing of the school community through positive interaction and support.

We are partners in the children’s education and we hope that the formation of this group will help forge firmer links with the school and develop friendships with like parents who are interested in supporting the school. Some of the ways this may occur include but are not limited to

- establishing valuable links between teachers and parents
- working in consultation and agreement with the Principal
- organising information and welcome events for new students and parents at the school
- helping with other school events and functions, such as athletics, book fair, disco
- organising uniform schemes
- organising fundraising activities
- helping to cater or work at fundraising activities
- assisting in the preparation of school newsletters, handbooks and calendars
- channelling parent views to school leadership about school policies, such as anti-bullying, codes of behaviour, etc. that have been identified by the school for review.

This is an exciting opportunity and we are pleased to announce that Kim Bright will be leading this initiative on behalf of the school and council.

Over the last month or so you will have noticed many people investigating the school. These experts, including hygienists, civil and structural engineers, ventilation experts, plumbers and more, have provided a full audit of the school’s condition from the bottom of the drains to the top of the roof. Several areas have been identified and in need of repair and a plan of action is currently being prepared.
Part of this investigation was in the year 3/4 Naomi and LOTE rooms. For a long time the ventilation in these rooms has not been adequate. We have had installed a new air cowl that extracts air and an air conditioner in the middle section and will have new windows that allow greater air flow installed next week. The report provided to the school on room quality and has indicated the school and its rooms fall within the expected levels and are safe for use. We have one room that currently remains closed due to water damage and this is the Art room. Further recommendations to alleviate the leaks and drain issues that have been identified in this room are waiting to be received. So the children are still able to attend Art sessions we have cleared the spare room next to the music room. Many thanks to Leanne and Lissa who spent several days making the room an Art room to work in.

Have a great weekend with your loved ones,

Deb

Sister School Visit
In term 1, we were lucky enough to have Monbulk College’s Japanese sister school visitors come to The Patch Primary School to meet us! Students were able to watch Aru-san (who is a Karate Master) perform his “kata”, as well as students doing some origami, and practising some new Japanese words. Thank you to McNair-Sensei from Monbulk College for organising the visit!

Congratulations Indigo! おめでとうございます!
Once again, The Patch Primary School put forward a student to apply for the Asia-Pacific Children’s Convention scholarship to Fukuoka, Japan and, once again, a student from The Patch Primary School was successful! Congratulations to Indigo! We are thrilled that she has been selected as one of six students from Victorian Primary Schools who will travel to Japan in July for two weeks!
Japanese Teacher’s Conference Book Cover Competition
This year, the JLTAV (Japanese Language Teacher’s Association of Victoria) ran a competition for students to design the cover of the Conference Booklet. The Patch Primary School submitted two posters for consideration – Hannah & Yasmin did a great job! Well done girls – fingers crossed!

What are we studying in Japanese in Term 2

Prep & Grade One – Last term, students learnt how to say their names (and other peoples’ names) Japanese style. Students also learnt some Japanese greetings and farewells. This term, the focus will be on learning how to say some colours in Japanese, counting from 1-10 in Japanese, and to be able to say the words for some shapes. Students will continue to learn to recognise characters in one of the Japanese scripts, hiragana.

Grade Two – Students learnt about Japanese traditional toys last term, as well as how to use these words in a sentence. This term, students will focus on how to talk about the weather in Japanese, as well as some fun Japanese traditions relating to the weather. Students will be refining their hiragana recognition, and begin learning hiragana variations.

Grade Three & Four - Last term, students were able to recognise the months of the year (written in kanji & hiragana), and well as being able to answer questions about their birthday month. For the remainder of this semester, students will be learning how to talk about clothing in Japanese, and look at traditional Japanese dress. Work will continue on hiragana variations and combination sounds.

Grade Five & Six – Students spent last term primarily learning and revising their Japanese self-introduction, as well as revising hiragana, with variations and combination sounds. This term, students will also revise how to double consonants and vowels in hiragana. Students will also be focusing on how to share their daily routine in Japanese.

Host Families Needed…
Some Japanese students will be travelling to Australia in August, via the organisation that is sending Indigo to Japan in July. Families would need to be prepared to host a student for five nights (Wednesday – Sunday) and students would be attending The Patch Primary School on school days. Some sight-seeing would be great for the Saturday, and students would depart on the Sunday. If you think you would be able to host a Japanese student, or have any further questions, please contact Jane at school Monday-Thursday.

Our fantastic OSHC

Angela Russo, mother of River in grade 2, wrote a glowing letter about OSHC to Deb and Michelle this week, and has given us permission to include it in the newsletter.

“Dear Deb and Michelle,
I wanted to express my thankfulness for the quality of the After School Hours Care program. To have River in Sheila’s and her workers care feels fantastic when I know he is around such genuine beautiful care. The games played and the healthy food provided all point to such quality, I cannot express how fantastic I have found Sheila from day one of moving up here when I knew no one and had to put River in OSHC a lot. She has been gold! River is flourishing in village type care and loves going. The games facilitated and general play and interaction they generate is really fantastic. Sheila is very special and River loves her and loves going which makes my life easier and happier 😊”

We are immensely proud of the Out of School Hours Care we provide, and all of the hard work Sheila puts in to make it such a wonderful service. Thank you Angela for your kind words.
A special tree to commemorate Anzac Day at The Patch Primary School

The Patch Primary School, one of the 500 Primary Schools participating in the National Trust of Australia (Victoria)’s Gallipoli Oaks Project, planted its very own Gallipoli Oak tree within its school ground on Thursday, April 23, during a commemorative assembly in the school’s arboretum (inside our entrance driveway). During the special assembly our students placed 300 hand-made red poppies on a display frame beside the Gallipoli Oak and sang our National Anthem and the New Zealand National Anthem. Two senior students shared poems and stories that told of their connections and recited “From the Fallen” after which the Last Post was heard followed by a minute’s silence.

The Gallipoli Oak was planted near our established Lone Pine by students from Year 3/4 who had prepared the site the day before. The Gallipoli Oak Project, as explained by Ms Anna Foley, Senior Advocate for Environmental Heritage at the National Trust of Australia (Victoria) “is the story of how a young Australian soldier, Captain Winter Cooke from Murndal, near Hamilton, noticed some unusual holly bushes while stationed at Gallipoli that had acorns like oak trees. Captain Winter Cooke remembered that his Uncle Samuel in Hamilton was a bit of a tree enthusiast; someone who would be interested in these rare acorns, and so he sent a package of acorns to him from Gallipoli almost 100 years ago.”

“Schools will plant seedlings that are direct descendants of those acorns from Gallipoli, and in doing so, will have their own direct link to the environment that the soldiers endured during the campaign.”

Dr Graeme L Blackman, Chairman of the National Trust of Australia (Victoria) said the planting of over 500 special Gallipoli Oaks during the Anzac Centenary will create enduring, living memorials in schools all across Victoria.

“Our project demonstrates the Trust’s and the community’s commitment to the passing on of the Gallipoli history from generation-to-generation as well as teaching an important environmental message about caring for our significant trees,” he said.

The National Trust of Australia (Victoria)’s Gallipoli Oaks Project has been made possible by the Victorian Government’s ANZAC Centenary Community Grant program and the assistance of many other generous sponsors and supporters.

Why not take a walk through our “Arboretum” and see if you can find the Gallipoli Oak. Below is an image of Yoni, Willem and Isack who ensure our oak will be safe and secure as it slowly matures.
Thank you to James Hughes for capturing such beautiful moments during the ceremony. If you would like to take a look at the rest of the photographs they can be viewed at:

After working in the primary school environment for over 15 years, I am very excited to be taking up the part time role of Student Wellbeing Officer at The Patch School and thank Deb very much for valuing this position and making it happen. Providing support to our school community through the Student Wellbeing Officer role is something I have been working towards for a long time.

Apart from my role in the office, my experience in this field includes:

• nine years’ experience in peer support and welfare within CFA (post trauma, personal issues and support agency referrals)
• Certificate III in Community Services
• completing my Diploma of Counselling
• participation in a student mentoring program with Emerald’s ECHO Youth Services and Emerald Secondary College

I have spent the past two years participating in training and furthering my professional learning in student wellbeing and am also a member of our Kidsmatter Action Team - a very exciting development towards whole-school mental health & wellbeing.

Support from the Student Wellbeing Officer is inclusive of all year levels and will offer a variety of programs to improve our students’ resilience, self-esteem, social skills, problem solving and emotional understanding. I am also available for a quiet chat with students, parents and staff members about anything on your mind.

I look forward to also organising parent education sessions with guest speakers and making the most of our own staff expertise to provide an opportunity to discuss and learn more about parenting topics. I’d love to hear of any subjects you are particularly interested in so I can cater future sessions to suit your needs.

Research shows that schools with strong student/parent/school relationships have better educational outcomes for their students. Students also engage in their learning better if they are happy at school. I believe that by parents and school staff working together, we can provide our students with an optimal learning environment, inspire them to be their best and encourage them to be happy in themselves.

If you would like to talk to me about the Student Wellbeing role, I am based in the Library office on Fridays. You are welcome to book a time with me at the school Office or by emailing yandle.jody.m@edumail.vic.gov.au anytime during the week. Confidentiality is observed at all times.

KidsMatter Primary is a mental health and wellbeing framework for primary schools and is proven to make a positive difference to the lives of Australian children. Over the next few years The Patch Primary will be introducing many initiatives under the KidsMatter banner. Our KidsMatter action team is Jane, Judy, Jody, Yale, Pauleen, Alesha and Lynne Davidson.

KidsMatter Primary provides the proven methods, tools and support to help schools work with parents and carers, health services and the wider community, to nurture happy, balanced kids. KidsMatter Primary is a flexible, whole-school approach to improving children’s mental health and wellbeing for primary schools. It can be tailored to schools’ local needs.

Through KidsMatter Primary, schools undertake a two-to three-year cyclical process in which they plan and take action to be a positive community; one that is founded on respectful relationships and a sense of belonging and inclusion, and that promotes:

- social and emotional learning (including evidence-based social and emotional learning programs)
- working authentically with parents, carers and families
- support for students who may be experiencing mental health difficulties.

When schools take on KidsMatter, they build on the work that they are already doing in these areas.

As a team we are passionate about empowering our school community with the tools and resources to support this mental health initiative. Stay tuned for updates and ways you can be involved.

Senior Athletics

On Tuesday 14th April we had our Senior Athletics day here at The Patch. Students from years 3-6 competed in sporting events including Discus, Shot Put, Javelin, Hurdles, Long Jump, 100m Sprint and Triple Jump. Big congratulations to Namin House (blue) for winning the house cup again!

On Thursday the 30th of April 62 of our athletes will be travelling to Knox Sporting Complex to compete in the Mountain District Athletics. We wish them all the best.

Congratulations to all the students awarded certificates at assembly! Well done everyone!

Have you been to Assembly recently? We hold our whole-school Assembly on Friday mornings at 9am either in the Hall or on the basketball court, depending on the weather.

Hope to see you there soon!
Winning Team!

Well all I can say is it was an outstanding game of netball! After losing the first quarter, the Monbulk Hot Shots under 11’s dug deep and made their comeback, defeating Emerald 16-9. The Hot Shots had never beaten this team before so had something to prove.

Monbulk Netball Club brings together our local schools. The Hot Shots team members below are our very own Lilian & Pearl Kidd from The Patch. Upon completion of the game the medals are awarded to all players. The umpires then had the difficult decision to choose ONE player as the Most Valuable Player (MVP award). Samantha Beecroft, a former student of The Patch and the goal attack for the Hot Shots was the very successful and deserving recipient of this award.

Pearl did an amazing job and ran the centre for the entire game and Lilian proved formidable in the defence. I'm very proud of my girls and the entire team.

The Importance of Attendance

Please remember that all students are expected to be in their classroom, ready to begin lessons by 8.50am.
We understand that now and again things don’t go to plan but all families should aim for their children to be at school by this time.
Parents should also remember that late arrivals or early leavers must be signed in or out by their parent or guardian using the VPass system on the iPad at the office. The appropriate orange or yellow tag must also be given to the classroom teacher when collecting your child.
The Department of Education & Training has very specific expectations about school attendance and we ask that all parents be mindful of the importance of prompt and regular attendance at school.

Thank you.

Our Open Garden
by Ada (5/6B)

The buzz in everyone’s eyes was amazing; either they’ve had too much fizzy drink, or our school is truly amazing. As a senior student of the school, I thought I might take some photos of the school for when I go to high school. I was taking photos of some musicians when I noticed my two best friends walking into the school. I remembered Kayla had a stall and that I had volunteered to help. Sophie was holding two bird houses, one was a small cream coloured one, and the other was a blue one that was neither too dark nor light. Kayla was holding a tray of plants, Maples and tomatoes.
I remember at about 1.00pm, I saw The Patch Band play. One of our teachers, Jennie, had made me introduce them. They were amazing, all the students at this school are talented and these guys are amazing musicians.
By the end of the day, everyone was tired. My brother’s new best friend was my teacher, Kent! My camera was exhausted. I left knowing I was at the best school ever.

Thoughts from the Weekend
by Indigo and Lily (5/6A)

On the 14/15 March, it was a huge success at The Patch Primary School’s Open Garden. Laughter and smiles could be heard and seen all through the school. There were fun activities, market stalls and lovely food. People were constantly saying how lucky all the students were to have such an amazing school garden! How much effort we went to to make improvements to our garden. It went extremely well and provided a great weekend for many families. We hope that you had lots of fun too at the Open Garden weekend!

When removing weeds please be aware of the potential that native animals may be sheltering in them. Always check woody weeds for nests before removing and where possible replace a weed with an indigenous native plant. Nest boxes are easy to make, inexpensive to buy and a great way of providing homes for native animals.
